

Pau Abello, Roca Bathrooms Products Pvt. Ltd.

"I take pride in telling you that recent ACETECH exhibitions at Mumbai and Bangalore turned out to be really successful for Parryware. We used ACETECH as a platform to showcase our new logo as well as all the new colour concept bathrooms which were well received by all. We won the 'Design Wall' award for Roca's In-Tank Meridian and 'Special Jury Recognition' for our stalls which has made this moment even happier for all of us at Parryware. As we are spreading our network across the country, Acetech has enabled us to reach out to a wider audience"

Anil K. Beejawat, Simpolo Vitrified Pvt. Ltd.

Economic Times ACETECH exhibition Mumbai was a very successful event. It would not be an exaggeration if I say the whole show was international class. Even our Italian JV partners held the same opinion. The efforts made by the Organisers to bring in Architects, Interior decorators and Builders in the show was commendable. The visitors came from far flung areas like Assam and Pondichery also, it was very interesting to see this fair attracting Buyers from Abroad as well. Overall a great experience and fruitful exercise.

Ashish Shah, Pepperfry.com

As our first year at ACETECH, this has been an enriching experience of connecting with potential channel partners and target customers. The platform is well established and enabled effective exposure to key industry players across the construction, architecture and design community. We are delighted with the response we garnered for our showcase of the Pepperfry portfolio of furniture and home products at the event and we look forward to forging new associations and opportunities through the Acetech experience.

Tribhuvan Rathod, Bell Granito Ceramica Ltd.

ACETECH is a good networking platform for professionals, architects, dealers and customers to interact with each other. Acetech exhibition is one-of-its-kind and there can never be any competitor for the event.

We are really elated to be associated with the exhibition.

Ashish Mehta, Orient Bell Ltd.

We have participated in the exhibition after six years and I must say the response has been overwhelming. We have been able to generate a lot of project queries. It's a big platform and our dealers and partners were very happy with our participation.

The exhibition has got us a good brand value and recall. The efforts taken by the Acetech team is commendable.

Saurabh Mittal, Greenlam Industries Ltd.

"At Greenlam we constantly endeavor to redefine interior spaces with superior quality products and get the best décor trends to the market. Our aim is to constantly innovate our technology and create products which facilitate craftsman masterpieces. Platforms such as ACETECH offer an opportunity to showcase our modernization and expertise. It also gives us a chance to share best practices with some of the world's leading players in the home and interior sector."

Hiren Varmora, Varmora Granito Pvt. Ltd.

Participating in ACETECH, 2015 is truly an exciting experience for us. It gives us the perfect opportunity to gauge our progress and set the blueprint for the future. This time our experience was further enriched by the new launches that we did. The fabulous response to the same has only augmented the joy of participating in this exhibition. We also look forward to ACETECH as it is a great platform to meet our customers, prospective customers and other stakeholders. Interacting with our customers, trying to know their views and opinions about our products and services only helps us evolve as a brand. These views also become the genesis for our innovative approach. With these enriching experiences, we move ahead to achieve our goals.

Madan Singi, Merino Industries Ltd.

ACETECH exhibition Mumbai is a well-advertized event. We have got a great foothold that has translated into new business and good returns. It is a forum to network and meet new people from the fraternity.

Lalit Malhotra, Anchor By Panasonic.

"ACETECH is a premier confluence that has transformed itself into one of the leading exhibitions of the industry featuring manufacturers and service providers under one roof. It is a great platform for a manufacturing company like Anchor By Panasonic to reach out to its core industry influencers such as architects, interior designers, consultants as well as end-users also. The various initiatives such as Design Wall, Acetech Connect add extra value to the overall experience. We were happy to garner an enthusiastic response through the said avenue and we wish this endeavour continued success year on year."

Arpita Roy Luthra, Pidilite Industries Ltd.

ACETECH exhibition is evolving year after year. The exhibition targets the right set of audience and it's a good way to network with industry professionals. It is a great and well-recognized platform for a promoter to showcase innovation because the brand recall is created in a big way.
