As the days get shorter, the chill in the air seems more apparent and just like that, winters are here! It's that time of the year when curling up on the sofa, binge watching your favourite shows with a cup of hot chocolate makes for the perfect respite after a long day at work. With warm colours and textures, how about reflecting this in your home décor as well? We assure you that your tranquil wonderland will breathe elegance with calm and relaxing aesthetics. So, rejoice the crisp cool mornings and chilly nights by reviving your interiors.

While the winter chill takes on its course, make way for some warm nights and breezy mornings with these quick home décor tips:

Luxurious blues

Shades like icy blue, snowy white and warm creams are inspired by winters which have the potential to add effortless charm to any space. It not only transforms a bedroom into a relaxed refuge but also adds a premium quotient to your interiors. Introduce layers of textured bedding, throws and velvet pillows to prepare your snuggly abode. A colour-pop will further enhance your bedding, so opt for deep blues with pale pinks to maintain a sophisticated colour scheme. Experiment with hints of metal in your accents to create a shiny and plush statement, for instance, try a bronze side table or a rose-gold table clock. Coming to floors, there's a touch of sophistication they add to your space. Having said that, engineered wood flooring has always been in trend with the amount of designs and styles you get from them.

This look goes best with Mikasa Noce Imperial which gives you a mesmerizing winter shade combined with a natural and effortless transformation which will make your home ooze that desired peaceful aura. Your interiors will instantly feel gorgeous and spacious. Lastly, to keep the chilly winds at bay, replace curtains with thick draperies in turquoise blue or royal beige. Wrapped in warm blanket, you can enjoy this season with this grand combination of décor elements.

Monochromatic haven

While the same hue and undertone is commonly used in monochromatic colour schemes, you can brew contrasting bold colours to build your design. A black, grey and white colour palette is timeless yet fearless. Start with opting for Walnut Delicacy and Appease Elm from Greenlam Laminates and pair them with armless black chairs. This simple mix brings out a modern touch to your furniture. Choose elements like a minimal vase to flaunt these beautiful shades. A nice nickel for your knobs when paired with brass faucet adds more character to your space.

Vibrant shades of yellow or pastel pink add contrast and personality to your monochromatic theme. These laminates are the perfect choice to obtain a balance as well as to make your space more intimate. Illuminate your interiors with hanging cylindrical lights and statement bulbs for a classy ambiance. Even if you are using royal hues such as greens or violets for that pop of colour in your monochromatic theme, you will still end-up with an effortless and wonderful space.

Quintessential grey

What once used to be considered boring is now in the midst of a major revival. Grey is a safe tone but there are endless possibilities to enliven your space with this shade. With open closet or fitted wardrobe it is much easier to locate and view your clothes, shoes and accessories. Revamp your closet by adding the grey glamour to the interiors. Adorn your walls and floor with subdued shades like egg-shell, taupe, Marengo or slate grey. Make use of interesting textures and patterns for a vivacious outcome.

We suggest using shelves made with natural veneers as they will complement the grey tones in your interiors and give your space a natural touch. Reflecting the eccentric influences, tweak your walls by alternatively using treasured species of wood veneers like Mahogany and Oak. This dimensional look can be achieved with Linear Herringbone pattern from The Specials collection of Decowood Veneers which has a multi-tone of wood colour. Place a rustic coffee table or a vintage floor cabinet and top-it up with your fashion accessories. Go for a jute laundry box and a floor lamp in orange or red colour to produce comfort and maintain an extremely therapeutic aura during winters.

A comfortable yet chic winter respite can be anything that makes you feel at home, colours, textures, patterns or a soft blanket. Create your own personal space inspired by these decorating ideas and indulge yourself in the serenity of a refreshing space cloaked in warmth and serenity. Happy winters!
