The festive seasons brings with it a sense of anticipation and excitement. It is a time full of celebrations, perfect to make lasting memories with family and friends. Our home at the heart of these celebrations, gets the utmost attention down to every detail. From selecting the perfect color palette to coordinating our furniture, decor, and choosing the perfect lighting, the mood and aesthetics must be perfect.

While ceiling and flooring may not be the first thing that come to our mind when preparing for the festive season, they play a crucial role in enhancing the overall aesthetics and ambiance of our homes. One of the most transformative ways to set the stage for the festivities is by giving your flooring a fresh and innovative look.

"From classic hardwood and elegant tiles to cozy carpeting and trendy vinyl, a wide array of flooring options awaits the interior decorator in us. Engineered wood flooring, in particular, offers a wide range of options that can enhance the beauty and charm of any space infusing a touch of luxury to your choice. From long planks to herringbone patterns, there is a design to suit every style and preference. Engineered wood flooring has become increasingly popular due to its aesthetic appeal and its ability to replicate the look of exotic and rare hardwood species without the environmental impact," says Parul Mittal, Director, Greenlam Industries.

Mittal shares reasons why you should choose engineered wood to revamp your home this festive season:

- 1. Versatility and Elegance One of the main advantages of engineered wood flooring is its versatility. It can seamlessly blend with any type of décor, whether you prefer a traditional, modern, or eclectic style. Flooring options like long planks are a popular choice for homeowners who want to create a seamless and spacious look in their living spaces. These extra-long boards can visually elongate a room, making it appear larger and more open. Whether you choose a light or dark wood finish, long planks add elegance and sophistication to any space.
- 2. Durability with a sense of luxury Engineered wood flooring is designed to withstand daily wear and tear, making it a durable and long-lasting option. The multiple layers of wood provide stability, reducing the chances of warping or cupping. Flooring options like herringbone patterns are a classic choice that never goes out of style. Herringbone patterns are available in a variety of wood species and finishes, allowing you to customize the look to match your decor. Whether you prefer a traditional or modern aesthetic, herringbone flooring is sure to impress your guests during the festive season.
- 3. Easy Installation and Maintenance Engineered wood flooring is also easier to install, maintain, and reinstall, making it an excellent choice for any homeowner as it uses technology, PlankLoc for joining the planks together. Additionally, it is compatible with underfloor heating systems, providing added comfort during the colder months.

To complete the festive transition of your flooring, we can consider adding accessories that complement your chosen design. Area rugs can add warmth and texture to your space while protecting your flooring from scratches and spills. Choosing rugs with festive colors and patterns that reflect the festive spirit. This can help enhance the beauty of your flooring and create a warm and inviting ambiance.
