

Interiors and Decor

13 January 2023

Give your home a new makeover with warm colour wall cladding panels

By admin – January 13, 2023

Facebook

Twitter

LinkedIn

WhatsApp

Email

OLYMPUS DIGITAL CAMERA

With 2023 setting its foot forward, we have entered a generation where minimalism and aesthetics can be considered our first priorities. Whether it's choosing your interior decor, or the perfect combination for your outer space, it's not just about how you decorate your interior space, but also about how you decorate the outer look of your safe space.

When we talk about residential and commercial architecture, the relevance of exterior décor is just as important as interior décor. The Indian facade market is primarily driven by the emerging trend of green buildings, as well as rising demand for fire retardant surfaces especially for commercial spaces. People now prefer to revamp their safe spaces with a modern outlook, staying in tune with the latest trends. Today, modern homes are built with clean lines, expansive windows, subtle colour tones, and an undeniable sleekness that has increasingly become the first choice for households.

An impressive exterior is the first impression of any space; therefore, bring the spotlight on your exterior decor with this great way to combat the dullness and chills: by playing with textures in hues of luxurious yet minimal styles

For your luxury comfort!

Product – Afro Marbella from NewMika FX collection

Home decor perception has shifted toward premium and niche product offerings as trends shift. People are now gravitating toward the impression of luxuries to achieve the perfect balance of comfort and elegance. We recommend Afro Marbella from the NewMika FX collection of Greenlam Industries, which is a great choice for ravishing exteriors.

This design has a bold and modern look combined with the beauty of magnificent marble. Apart from the elegance the cladding panels come with a multitude of excellent features such as UV resistance, fire retardancy, anti-graffiti properties, chemical, moisture, and corrosion resistance, along with an unmatched aesthetic appearance that makes them a statement piece for commercial and residential facades.

For your vintage look !

Product – Redo Walnut from NewMika FX collection

Creating an appealing exterior appearance is just as important as how your interiors define your style statement. Vintage is one such factor that evokes nostalgia in people of all ages. To give your home's exterior that specific style, we suggest considering the unique Redo Walnut from the NewMika FX collection, which ultimately induces an ideal, rural life feel adapted to modern living and will automatically beautify the exterior of any of your spaces.

These exteriors also act as a highlighter for contemporary residential facades that need a rustic touch on elements such as pergola & gates. With the antique look, these wood pattern laminates are equipped with a myriad of features such as, anti-graffiti properties, anti-fire resistance and specifically anti-termite properties to protect your facades from termites. A home is ultimately a place where you can unwind at the end of the day, so it is critical to keep up with the latest trends and update your home's curb appeal

Design Dekko

25 January 2023

Home Décor, Interior design, How to | Design Dekko Editorial

Give your home a new makeover with warm colour wall cladding panels

Updated On: 25 Jan 2023

Revamp your home's exterior with these expert tips from Parul Mittal, Director of Greenlam Industries.

♡ 0 0

Share <

As we enter into 2023, minimalism and aesthetics have become increasingly important in architectural design. When we talk about residential and commercial architecture, exterior décor is just as important as interior décor.

The Indian facade market is currently driven by a growing trend towards green buildings and an increased demand for fire-retardant surfaces, particularly in commercial spaces. People now prefer to revamp their safe spaces with a modern look, staying in tune with the latest trends. Today, modern homes are built with clean lines, expansive windows, subtle colour tones, and a sleek aesthetic that is becoming increasingly popular among households.

An impressive exterior is the first thing people see. Enhance the aesthetic appeal of your exterior decor by experimenting with textures in hues of luxurious yet minimal styles.

For your luxury comfort!

Product: Afro Marbella from the NewMika FX collection

Home décor trends have shifted towards premium and niche product offerings. People are now gravitating toward the impression of luxury to achieve the perfect balance of comfort and elegance. We recommend Afro Marbella from the NewMika FX collection of Greenlam Industries, which is a great choice for ravishing exteriors.

This design boasts a bold and modern look, combined with the beauty of magnificent marble. Apart from its elegance, the cladding panels come with a multitude of excellent features such as UV resistance, fire retardancy, anti-graffiti properties, and resistance to chemicals, moisture and corrosion. They also have an unmatched aesthetic appearance, making them a statement piece for commercial and residential facades.

For your vintage look!

Product: Redo Walnut from the NewMika FX collection

Creating an appealing exterior appearance is just as important as your interiors in defining your style statement. Vintage is one such factor that evokes nostalgia in people of all ages. To give your home's exterior that specific style, we suggest considering the unique Redo Walnut from the NewMika FX collection, which will ultimately induce an ideal, rural feel adapted to modern living and will automatically beautify the exterior of any of your spaces.

These exteriors also act as a highlight for contemporary residential facades that need a rustic touch on elements such as pergolas and gates. With their antique look, these wood pattern laminates are equipped with a myriad of features such as anti-graffiti properties, anti-fire resistance and anti-termite properties to protect your facades from termites. Remember, a home is ultimately a place where you can unwind at the end of the day, so it is critical to keep up with the latest trends and update your home's curb appeal.