

BW Hotelier

04 August 2020

Greenlam extends Covid-19 health insurance scheme for interior contractors under the aegis of 'Decowood Cares'

To help create a hygienic and safe work environment, 'Decowood Cares' is a humble initiative that ensures health of its community.

Greenlam Industries Ltd., a provider of decorative surfacing solutions, announces 'Decowood Cares' initiative under its decorative veneer brand Decowood. The initiative aims at supporting its interior contractors to ensure their well-being during the pandemic. Decowood is, therefore, offering health insurance cover worth Rs 1 Lakh to its existing interior contractors who are a part of the brand's annual program called Achievers Club.

Speaking on the occasion Shivaji Mohinta, Country Head, Decorative Veneers and Flooring, Greenlam Industries Ltd. said, "At Greenlam Industries Ltd., safety and health of our employees and customers have been of paramount importance to us. Looking at the nature of on-site work, our support system of interior contractors is amongst those who are highly prone to virus exposure. At a time, when they have been supporting us through thick and thin, we wanted to ensure all the safety and health resources are provided to them. With this vision, we came up with 'Decowood Cares' initiative which aims at providing health insurances and safety kits to foster a safe yet seamless working process for our community of interior contractors. With this initiative, we welcome back our community to work again amidst a safe work environment."

Given the current situation, the interior contractors are one of those communities whose on-site presence is crucial for getting the work done. As businesses and operations have resumed, they are the ones who are working with beautifully crafted veneers to make our spaces look spectacular even during such difficult times. To help create a hygienic and safe work environment, 'Decowood Cares' is a humble initiative that ensures health of its community. Apart from the insurance support, Decowood has also curated a 'Safety Hygiene Kit' which comprises of masks, gloves, sanitizer and policy card to keep its community safe at the workplace.

UNI

04 August 2020

Greenlam Industries extends Covid-19 health insurance for interior contractors

Mumbai, Aug 4 (UNI) Greenlam Industries a leading provider of decorative surfacing solutions has announced 'Decowood Cares' initiative under its decorative veneer brand Decowood. This initiative aims at supporting its interior contractors to ensure their well-being during the pandemic. Decowood is therefore offering health insurance cover worth Rs 1 Lakh to its existing interior contractors who are a part of the brand's annual program called Achievers Club.

Given the current situation, the interior contractors are one of those communities whose on-site presence is crucial for getting the work done. As businesses and operations have resumed, they are the ones who are working with beautifully crafted veneers to make our spaces look spectacular even during such difficult times. To help create a hygienic and safe work environment, 'Decowood Cares' is a humble initiative that ensures health of its community. Apart from the insurance support, Decowood has also curated a 'Safety Hygiene Kit' which comprises of masks, gloves, sanitizer and policy card to keep its community safe at the workplace.

Please log in to get detailed story.

Tags: #Greenlam Industries extends Covid-19 health insurance for interior contractors

ACE Update

19 August 2020

Home » News & Update » Greenlam Industries Ltd extends Covid-19 health insurance scheme for interior contractors

Greenlam Industries Ltd extends Covid-19 health insurance scheme for interior contractors

Posted On August 19, 2020 in News & Update

Decowood Cares aims at supporting its interior contractors to ensure their well-being during the pandemic. Decowood is, therefore, offering health insurance cover worth Rs 1 lakh to its existing interior contractors who are a part of the brand's annual program called Achievers Club.

Greenlam Industries Ltd, the largest producer of laminates in Asia and a leading provider of decorative surfacing solutions has announced 'Decowood Cares' initiative under its decorative veneer brand Decowood. This initiative aims at supporting its interior contractors to ensure their well-being during the pandemic. Decowood is, therefore, offering health insurance cover worth Rs 1 lakh to its existing interior contractors who are a part of the brand's annual program called Achievers Club.

Given the current situation, the interior contractors are one of those communities whose on-site presence is crucial for getting the work done. As businesses and operations have resumed, they are the ones who are working with beautifully crafted veneers to make our spaces look spectacular even during such difficult times. To help create a hygienic and safe work environment, 'Decowood Cares' is a humble initiative that ensures health of its community. Apart from the insurance support, Decowood has also curated a 'Safety Hygiene Kit' which comprises of masks, gloves, sanitizer and policy card to keep its community safe at the workplace.

Speaking on the occasion Shivaji Mohinta, Country Head, Decorative Veneers and Flooring, Greenlam Industries Ltd said, "At Greenlam Industries Ltd, safety and health of our employees and customers have been of paramount importance to us. Looking at the nature of on-site work, our support system of interior contractors is amongst those who are highly prone to the virus exposure. At a time, when they have been supporting us through thick and thin, we wanted to ensure all the safety and health resources are provided to them. With this vision, we came up with 'Decowood Cares' initiative which aims at providing health insurances and safety kits to foster a safe yet seamless working process for our community of interior contractors. With this initiative, we welcome back our community to work again amidst a safe work environment."

11 August 2020

11 Aug 2020

Greenlam Industries extends COVID-19 health insurance scheme for interior contractors under the aegis of 'Decowood Cares'

Apart from the insurance support, Decowood has also curated a 'Safety Hygiene Kit', which comprises masks, gloves, sanitiser and policy card, to keep its community safe at the workplace

Greenlam Industries has announced the 'Decowood Cares' initiative under its decorative veneer brand – Decowood. This initiative aims at supporting its interior contractors to ensure their well-being during the pandemic. Decowood is therefore offering a health insurance cover worth Rs 1 lakh to its existing interior contractors, who are a part of the brand's annual programme called Achievers Club.

Given the current situation, the interior contractors are one of those communities whose on-site presence is crucial for getting the work done. As businesses and operations have resumed, they are the ones who are working to make our spaces look spectacular even during such difficult times. To help create a hygienic and safe work environment, 'Decowood Cares' is a humble initiative that ensures the health of its community. Apart from the insurance support, Decowood has also curated a 'Safety Hygiene Kit', which comprises masks, gloves, sanitiser and policy card, to keep its community safe at the workplace.

Speaking on the occasion, Shivaji Mohinta, country head, Decorative Veneers and Flooring, Greenlam Industries, said, "At Greenlam Industries, safety and health of our employees and customers have been of paramount importance to us. Looking at the nature of on-site work, our support system of interior contractors is amongst those who are highly prone to the virus exposure. At a time, when they have been supporting us through thick and thin; we wanted to ensure all the safety and health resources are provided to them. With this vision, we came up with the 'Decowood Cares' initiative, which aims at providing health insurances and safety kits to foster a safe yet seamless working process for our community of interior contractors. With this initiative, we welcome back our community to work again amidst a safe work environment."

For more information, please visit: www.greenlamindustries.com

Balaji News

06 August 2020

Greenlam Industries Ltd. Extends Covid-19 Health Insurance Scheme For Interior Contractors Under The Aegis Of 'Decowood Cares'

By Admin — On Aug 6, 2020

Greenlam Industries Ltd., the largest producer of laminates in Asia and a leading provider of decorative surfacing solutions has announced 'Decowood Cares' initiative under its decorative veneer brand Decowood. This initiative aims at supporting its interior contractors to ensure their well-being during the pandemic. Decowood is therefore offering health insurance cover worth Rs 1 Lakh to its existing interior contractors who are a part of the brand's annual program called Achievers Club. Given the current situation, the interior contractors are one of those communities whose on-site presence is crucial for getting the work done. As businesses and operations have resumed, they are the ones who are working with beautifully crafted veneers to make our spaces look spectacular even during such difficult times. To help create a hygienic and safe work environment, 'Decowood Cares' is a humble initiative that ensures health of its community. Apart from the insurance support, Decowood has also curated a 'Safety Hygiene Kit' which comprises of masks, gloves, sanitizer and policy card to keep its community safe at the workplace. Speaking on the occasion Mr. Shivaji Mohinta, Country Head, Decorative Veneers and Flooring, Greenlam Industries Ltd. said, "At Greenlam Industries Ltd., safety and health of our employees and customers have been of paramount importance to us. Looking at the nature of on-site work, our support system of interior contractors is amongst those who are highly prone to the virus exposure. At a time, when they have been supporting us through thick and thin, we wanted to ensure all the safety and health resources are provided to them. With this vision, we came-up with 'Decowood Cares' initiative which aims at providing health insurances and safety kits to foster a safe yet seamless working process for our community of interior contractors. With this initiative, we welcome back our community to work again amidst a safe work environment."

Post Views: 99

Surfaces Reporter

04 August 2020

Decowood Care- Covid-19 health insurance scheme for interior contractors by Greenlam Industries

Article in Audio

04 Aug 2020 | 2 Min Read | Surfaces Reporter

Greenlam Industries Ltd, a leading provider of decorative surfacing solutions of the country has announced 'Decowood Cares' initiative under its decorative veneer brand Decowood. Under the initiative, Decowood is offering health insurance cover worth Rs 1 Lakh to its existing interior contractors who are a part of the brand's annual program called Achievers Club.

Apart from the insurance support, Decowood has also curated a 'Safety Hygiene Kit' which comprises of masks, gloves, sanitizer and policy card to keep its community safe at the workplace.

To help create a hygienic and safe work environment for the interior contractors, whose onsite presence is foremost essential to ensure the correct design implementation, 'Decowood Cares' is a humble initiative that ensures health of its community.

Speaking on the occasion Mr. Shivaji Mohinta, Country Head, Decorative Veneers and Flooring, Greenlam Industries Ltd. said, "At Greenlam Industries Ltd., safety and health of our employees and customers have been of paramount importance to us. Looking at the nature of on-site work, our support system of interior contractors is amongst those who are highly prone to the virus exposure. At a time, when they have been supporting us through thick and thin, we wanted to ensure all the safety and health resources are provided to them. With this vision, we came-up with 'Decowood Cares' initiative which aims at providing health insurances and safety kits to foster a safe yet seamless working process for our community of interior contractors. With this initiative, we welcome back our community to work again amidst a safe work environment."

Exclusive News

04 August 2020

HEALTH NEWS

Greenlam Industries Ltd. extends Covid-19 health insurance scheme

August 4, 2020 0 196

National, 4th August 2020.

Greenlam Industries Ltd., the largest producer of laminates in Asia and a leading provider of decorative surfacing solutions has announced ‘Decowood Cares’ initiative under its decorative veneer brand Decowood. This initiative aims at supporting its interior contractors to ensure their well-being during the pandemic. Decowood is therefore offering health insurance cover worth Rs 1 Lakh to its existing interior contractors who are a part of the brand’s annual program called Achievers Club.

Given the current situation, the interior contractors are one of those communities whose on-site presence is crucial for getting the work done. As businesses and operations have resumed, they are the ones who are working with beautifully crafted veneers to make our spaces look spectacular even during such difficult times. To help create a hygienic and safe work environment, ‘Decowood Cares’ is a humble initiative that ensures health of its community. Apart from the insurance support, Decowood has also curated a ‘Safety Hygiene Kit’ which comprises of masks, gloves, sanitizer and policy card to keep its community safe at the workplace.

Speaking on the occasion Mr. Shivaji Mohinta, Country Head, Decorative Veneers and Flooring, Greenlam Industries Ltd. said, “At Greenlam Industries Ltd., safety and health of our employees and customers have been of paramount importance to us. Looking at the nature of on-site work, our support system of interior contractors is amongst those who are highly prone to the virus exposure. At a time, when they have been supporting us through thick and thin, we wanted to ensure all the safety and health resources are provided to them. With this vision, we came-up with ‘Decowood Cares’ initiative which aims at providing health insurances and safety kits to foster a safe yet seamless working process for our community of interior contractors. With this initiative, we welcome back our community to work again amidst a safe work environment.”