

Not only in the world of fashion but also in the world of interior décor, matte finishes have created a niche for themselves. These surfaces add depth to your space as they absorb light rather than reflecting it.

A top-down view of various ingredients and tools for making pasta on a dark grey surface. The items include a metal strainer on a striped cloth, a bottle of olive oil, a small bowl of farfalle pasta, a cracked egg, a pile of flour with an egg yolk in the center, a carton of eggs, a spoon with oil, and fresh herbs.

Eden Grey – AFX laminates by Greenlam Laminates comes in a matte finish making the grey colour look even more regal and exquisite. Anti-fingerprint (AFX) laminates keep your surfaces impression free making them last longer. Making the surface non-porous and hydro-repellent, they are easy to clean impurities as well as grease marks. Incorporate dim lighting to further accentuate the vivid personality of these dark hues.
