

Oak Tar premium veneers by Decowood

Oak Tar by Decowood premium veneers from the house of Greenlam offers an interesting choice to uplift the décor. In washrooms, Oak Tar aptly provides a sense of sophistication and elegance to the space.

It's always a good choice to incorporate earthy colours to the washroom space. "After a long day at work, one needs to take a rejuvenating bath in a calm and composed space. The dark brown shade of Oak Tar when juxtaposed with a white basin or a bathtub makes the experience really enriching and relaxing. Additionally, earthy tones add a touch of nature to the décor and make them look refreshed and extremely classy," claims the company.

With an availability of vertical and horizontal grain patterns, one can style the existing décor by adding some crisp accessories to this space. With towels that enhance the earthy colour scheme, designers can also neutralise the browns with some white additions such as a vase or a distinct wall art, apart from mandatory bathroom fixtures.

Premium veneers accentuate the space and add a warm and cosy feel which overall complements the décor of bathroom. This chocolaty shade comes from the oak species and makes for an interesting choice for the washroom as this hue can be accompanied with a variety of colours opening one up to a world of endless possibilities.