

Passionate in Marketing

Greenlam Industries to Showcase Integrated Design & Sustainable Innovation at India Design Delhi 2026

February 17, 2026 Author

 0  158

New Delhi, 17th February 2026 – Greenlam Industries, a leading integrated substrate and surface solutions provider, has announced its participation at India Design (ID) Delhi 2026 for the fifth consecutive year. Strengthening its association with one of the country’s most influential design platforms, the company will serve as both the Flooring Partner and the Sustainability Partner at the event, reinforcing its commitment to advancing environmentally responsible and design-forward solutions.

Scheduled from 19 to 22 February 2026 at Okhla, New Delhi, India Design Delhi 2026 is curated by Ogaan Media in collaboration with ELLE Décor India and brings together over 130 exhibitors from across the interior décor and design spectrum. The platform serves as a confluence of global trends, creative dialogue, and cutting-edge design innovation.

At this year’s showcase, Greenlam Industries will present One Mikasa, a unified and comprehensive brand that brings together surfacing and substrate solutions under a single, cohesive ecosystem. Designed as a seamless, one-stop solution for architects and designers, One Mikasa integrates Mikasa Plywood, Mikasa Laminates, Mikasa Decowood Veneers, Mikasa Floors, and Mikasa Doors. Together, the portfolio reflects a harmonious blend of structural strength, refined aesthetics, and environmental responsibility, simplifying material selection while elevating creative possibilities.

The booth will also spotlight FloorISM, Mikasa Floors’ distinctive design philosophy that reimagines flooring as the foundation of spatial storytelling. Moving beyond functionality, FloorISM positions floors as expressive canvases that shape the mood, rhythm, and identity of a space. Enveloped within this philosophy is the Mikasa Floors Collection 2026, built on two defining pillars – Design and Performance.

Drawing inspiration from global art movements and contemporary design sensibilities, the collection celebrates craftsmanship and creativity through curated patterns, textures, and finishes. Complementing its design-forward appeal are advanced performance innovations including an Anti-Termite Underlay engineered for 360-degree ground-up protection, fire-retardant wooden flooring technology, and enhanced water-resistant features, ensuring durability, safety, and long-term peace of mind across residential and commercial environments.

Commenting on the participation, Parul Mittal, Director, Greenlam Industries, said: “India Design is more than an exhibition for us. It is a dialogue with the design community about what the future of spaces should look like. Through One Mikasa, we are presenting an integrated ecosystem that simplifies design decisions without limiting imagination. With FloorISM, we are encouraging designers to begin from the ground up, to see flooring not as a finishing layer, but as the starting point of creative expression. As Sustainability Partner, our focus remains clear: responsible innovation must walk hand in hand with great design.”

Greenlam Industries’ continued presence at India Design reflects its larger vision of driving transformation within the built environment, where aesthetics, performance, and sustainability coexist seamlessly. By combining advanced manufacturing, certified environmental practices, and future-focused design thinking, the company aims to contribute meaningfully to India’s evolving architectural landscape.

Business News This Week

Greenlam Industries to Showcase Integrated Design & Sustainable Innovation at India Design Delhi 2026

🕒 February 17, 2026 👤 Neel Achary 📁 business 💬 0

New Delhi, Feb 17: Greenlam Industries, a leading integrated substrate and surface solutions provider, has announced its participation at India Design (ID) Delhi 2026 for the fifth consecutive year. Strengthening its association with one of the country's most influential design platforms, the company will serve as both the Flooring Partner and the Sustainability Partner at the event, reinforcing its commitment to advancing environmentally responsible and design-forward solutions.

Scheduled from 19 to 22 February 2026 at Okhla, New Delhi, India Design Delhi 2026 is curated by Ogaan Media in collaboration with ELLE Décor India and brings together over 130 exhibitors from across the interior décor and design spectrum. The platform serves as a confluence of global trends, creative dialogue, and cutting-edge design innovation.

At this year's showcase, Greenlam Industries will present One Mikasa, a unified and comprehensive brand that brings together surfacing and substrate solutions under a single, cohesive ecosystem. Designed as a seamless, one-stop solution for architects and designers, One Mikasa integrates Mikasa Plywood, Mikasa Laminates, Mikasa Decowood Veneers, Mikasa Floors, and Mikasa Doors. Together, the portfolio reflects a harmonious blend of structural strength, refined aesthetics, and environmental responsibility, simplifying material selection while elevating creative possibilities.

The booth will also spotlight FloorISM, Mikasa Floors' distinctive design philosophy that reimagines flooring as the foundation of spatial storytelling. Moving beyond functionality, FloorISM positions floors as expressive canvases that shape the mood, rhythm, and identity of a space. Enveloped within this philosophy is the Mikasa Floors Collection 2026, built on two defining pillars – Design and Performance.

Drawing inspiration from global art movements and contemporary design sensibilities, the collection celebrates craftsmanship and creativity through curated patterns, textures, and finishes. Complementing its design-forward appeal are advanced performance innovations including an Anti-Termite Underlay engineered for 360-degree ground-up protection, fire-retardant wooden flooring technology, and enhanced water-resistant features, ensuring durability, safety, and long-term peace of mind across residential and commercial environments.

Commenting on the participation, Parul Mittal, Director, Greenlam Industries, said:

"India Design is more than an exhibition for us. It is a dialogue with the design community about what the future of spaces should look like. Through One Mikasa, we are presenting an integrated ecosystem that simplifies design decisions without limiting imagination. With FloorISM, we are encouraging designers to begin from the ground up, to see flooring not as a finishing layer, but as the starting point of creative expression. As Sustainability Partner, our focus remains clear: responsible innovation must walk hand in hand with great design."

Greenlam Industries' continued presence at India Design reflects its larger vision of driving transformation within the built environment, where aesthetics, performance, and sustainability coexist seamlessly. By combining advanced manufacturing, certified environmental practices, and future-focused design thinking, the company aims to contribute meaningfully to India's evolving architectural landscape.

Businesshour9

Greenlam Industries to Showcase Integrated Design & Sustainable Innovation at India Design Delhi 2026

February 17, 2026 • admin

New Delhi, Feb 17: Greenlam Industries, a leading integrated substrate and surface solutions provider, has announced its participation at India Design (ID) Delhi 2026 for the fifth consecutive year. Strengthening its association with one of the country's most influential design platforms, the company will serve as both the Flooring Partner and the Sustainability Partner at the event, reinforcing its commitment to advancing environmentally responsible and design-forward solutions.

Scheduled from 19 to 22 February 2026 at Okhla, New Delhi, India Design Delhi 2026 is curated by Ogaan Media in collaboration with ELLE Décor India and brings together over 130 exhibitors from across the interior décor and design spectrum. The platform serves as a confluence of global trends, creative dialogue, and cutting-edge design innovation.

At this year's showcase, Greenlam Industries will present One Mikasa, a unified and comprehensive brand that brings together surfacing and substrate solutions under a single, cohesive ecosystem. Designed as a seamless, one-stop solution for architects and designers, One Mikasa integrates Mikasa Plywood, Mikasa Laminates, Mikasa Decowood Veneers, Mikasa Floors, and Mikasa Doors. Together, the portfolio reflects a harmonious blend of structural strength, refined aesthetics, and environmental responsibility, simplifying material selection while elevating creative possibilities.

The booth will also spotlight FloorISM, Mikasa Floors' distinctive design philosophy that reimagines flooring as the foundation of spatial storytelling. Moving beyond functionality, FloorISM positions floors as expressive canvases that shape the mood, rhythm, and identity of a space. Enveloped within this philosophy is the Mikasa Floors Collection 2026, built on two defining pillars - Design and Performance.

Drawing inspiration from global art movements and contemporary design sensibilities, the collection celebrates craftsmanship and creativity through curated patterns, textures, and finishes. Complementing its design-forward appeal are advanced performance innovations including an Anti-Termite Underlay engineered for 360-degree ground-up protection, fire-retardant wooden flooring technology, and enhanced water-resistant features, ensuring durability, safety, and long-term peace of mind across residential and commercial environments.

Commenting on the participation, Parul Mittal, Director, Greenlam Industries, said:

"India Design is more than an exhibition for us. It is a dialogue with the design community about what the future of spaces should look like. Through One Mikasa, we are presenting an integrated ecosystem that simplifies design decisions without limiting imagination. With FloorISM, we are encouraging designers to begin from the ground up, to see flooring not as a finishing layer, but as the starting point of creative expression. As Sustainability Partner, our focus remains clear: responsible innovation must walk hand in hand with great design."

Greenlam Industries' continued presence at India Design reflects its larger vision of driving transformation within the built environment, where aesthetics, performance, and sustainability coexist seamlessly. By combining advanced manufacturing, certified environmental practices, and future-focused design thinking, the company aims to contribute meaningfully to India's evolving architectural landscape.

Biz Development News

Greenlam Industries to Showcase Integrated Design & Sustainable Innovation at India Design Delhi 2026

New Delhi, Feb 17: Greenlam Industries, a leading integrated substrate and surface solutions provider, has announced its participation at India Design (ID) Delhi 2026 for the fifth consecutive year. Strengthening its association with one of the country's most influential design platforms, the company will serve as both the Flooring Partner and the Sustainability Partner at the event, reinforcing its commitment to advancing environmentally responsible and design-forward solutions.

Scheduled from 19 to 22 February 2026 at Okhla, New Delhi, India Design Delhi 2026 is curated by Ogaan Media in collaboration with ELLE Décor India and brings together over 130 exhibitors from across the interior décor and design spectrum. The platform serves as a confluence of global trends, creative dialogue, and cutting-edge design innovation.

At this year's showcase, Greenlam Industries will present One Mikasa, a unified and comprehensive brand that brings together surfacing and substrate solutions under a single, cohesive ecosystem. Designed as a seamless, one-stop solution for architects and designers, One Mikasa integrates Mikasa Plywood, Mikasa Laminates, Mikasa Decowood Veneers, Mikasa Floors, and Mikasa Doors. Together, the portfolio reflects a harmonious blend of structural strength, refined aesthetics, and environmental responsibility, simplifying material selection while elevating creative possibilities.

The booth will also spotlight FloorISM, Mikasa Floors' distinctive design philosophy that reimagines flooring as the foundation of spatial storytelling. Moving beyond functionality, FloorISM positions floors as expressive canvases that shape the mood, rhythm, and identity of a space. Enveloped within this philosophy is the Mikasa Floors Collection 2026, built on two defining pillars - Design and Performance.

Drawing inspiration from global art movements and contemporary design sensibilities, the collection celebrates craftsmanship and creativity through curated patterns, textures, and finishes. Complementing its design-forward appeal are advanced performance innovations including an Anti-Termite Underlay engineered for 360-degree ground-up protection, fire-retardant wooden flooring technology, and enhanced water-resistant features, ensuring durability, safety, and long-term peace of mind across residential and commercial environments.

Commenting on the participation, Parul Mittal, Director, Greenlam Industries, said:

"India Design is more than an exhibition for us. It is a dialogue with the design community about what the future of spaces should look like. Through One Mikasa, we are presenting an integrated ecosystem that simplifies design decisions without limiting imagination. With FloorISM, we are encouraging designers to begin from the ground up, to see flooring not as a finishing layer, but as the starting point of creative expression. As Sustainability Partner, our focus remains clear: responsible innovation must walk hand in hand with great design."

Greenlam Industries' continued presence at India Design reflects its larger vision of driving transformation within the built environment, where aesthetics, performance, and sustainability coexist seamlessly. By combining advanced manufacturing, certified environmental practices, and future-focused design thinking, the company aims to contribute meaningfully to India's evolving architectural landscape.

Stocks in News

BUSINESS

Greenlam Industries to Showcase Integrated Design & Sustainable Innovation at India Design Delhi 2026

Post By admin | February 17, 2026 | No Comments

New Delhi, Feb 17: Greenlam Industries, a leading integrated substrate and surface solutions provider, has announced its participation at India Design (ID) Delhi 2026 for the fifth consecutive year. Strengthening its association with one of the country's most influential design platforms, the company will serve as both the Flooring Partner and the Sustainability Partner at the event, reinforcing its commitment to advancing environmentally responsible and design-forward solutions.

Scheduled from 19 to 22 February 2026 at Okhla, New Delhi, India Design Delhi 2026 is curated by Ogaan Media in collaboration with ELLE Décor India and brings together over 130 exhibitors from across the interior décor and design spectrum. The platform serves as a confluence of global trends, creative dialogue, and cutting-edge design innovation.

At this year's showcase, Greenlam Industries will present One Mikasa, a unified and comprehensive brand that brings together surfacing and substrate solutions under a single, cohesive ecosystem. Designed as a seamless, one-stop solution for architects and designers, One Mikasa integrates Mikasa Plywood, Mikasa Laminates, Mikasa Decowood Veneers, Mikasa Floors, and Mikasa Doors. Together, the portfolio reflects a harmonious blend of structural strength, refined aesthetics, and environmental responsibility, simplifying material selection while elevating creative possibilities.

The booth will also spotlight FloorISM, Mikasa Floors' distinctive design philosophy that reimagines flooring as the foundation of spatial storytelling. Moving beyond functionality, FloorISM positions floors as expressive canvases that shape the mood, rhythm, and identity of a space. Enveloped within this philosophy is the Mikasa Floors Collection 2026, built on two defining pillars – Design and Performance.

Drawing inspiration from global art movements and contemporary design sensibilities, the collection celebrates craftsmanship and creativity through curated patterns, textures, and finishes. Complementing its design-forward appeal are advanced performance innovations including an Anti-Termite Underlay engineered for 360-degree ground-up protection, fire-retardant wooden flooring technology, and enhanced water-resistant features, ensuring durability, safety, and long-term peace of mind across residential and commercial environments.

Commenting on the participation, Parul Mittal, Director, Greenlam Industries, said:

"India Design is more than an exhibition for us. It is a dialogue with the design community about what the future of spaces should look like. Through One Mikasa, we are presenting an integrated ecosystem that simplifies design decisions without limiting imagination. With FloorISM, we are encouraging designers to begin from the ground up, to see flooring not as a finishing layer, but as the starting point of creative expression. As Sustainability Partner, our focus remains clear: responsible innovation must walk hand in hand with great design."

Greenlam Industries' continued presence at India Design reflects its larger vision of driving transformation within the built environment, where aesthetics, performance, and sustainability coexist seamlessly. By combining advanced manufacturing, certified environmental practices, and future-focused design thinking, the company aims to contribute meaningfully to India's evolving architectural landscape.

Gupteswar

BUSINESS

Greenlam Industries to Showcase Integrated Design & Sustainable Innovation at India Design Delhi 2026

on February 17, 2026 — Team

New Delhi, Feb 17: Greenlam Industries, a leading integrated substrate and surface solutions provider, has announced its participation at India Design (ID) Delhi 2026 for the fifth consecutive year. Strengthening its association with one of the country's most influential design platforms, the company will serve as both the Flooring Partner and the Sustainability Partner at the event, reinforcing its commitment to advancing environmentally responsible and design-forward solutions.

Scheduled from 19 to 22 February 2026 at Okhla, New Delhi, India Design Delhi 2026 is curated by Ogaan Media in collaboration with ELLE Décor India and brings together over 130 exhibitors from across the interior décor and design spectrum. The platform serves as a confluence of global trends, creative dialogue, and cutting-edge design innovation.

At this year's showcase, Greenlam Industries will present One Mikasa, a unified and comprehensive brand that brings together surfacing and substrate solutions under a single, cohesive ecosystem. Designed as a seamless, one-stop solution for architects and designers, One Mikasa integrates Mikasa Plywood, Mikasa Laminates, Mikasa Decowood Veneers, Mikasa Floors, and Mikasa Doors. Together, the portfolio reflects a harmonious blend of structural strength, refined aesthetics, and environmental responsibility, simplifying material selection while elevating creative possibilities.

The booth will also spotlight FloorISM, Mikasa Floors' distinctive design philosophy that reimagines flooring as the foundation of spatial storytelling. Moving beyond functionality, FloorISM positions floors as expressive canvases that shape the mood, rhythm, and identity of a space. Enveloped within this philosophy is the Mikasa Floors Collection 2026, built on two defining pillars – Design and Performance.

Drawing inspiration from global art movements and contemporary design sensibilities, the collection celebrates craftsmanship and creativity through curated patterns, textures, and finishes. Complementing its design-forward appeal are advanced performance innovations including an Anti-Termite Underlay engineered for 360-degree ground-up protection, fire-retardant wooden flooring technology, and enhanced water-resistant features, ensuring durability, safety, and long-term peace of mind across residential and commercial environments.

Commenting on the participation, Parul Mittal, Director, Greenlam Industries, said:

"India Design is more than an exhibition for us. It is a dialogue with the design community about what the future of spaces should look like. Through One Mikasa, we are presenting an integrated ecosystem that simplifies design decisions without limiting imagination. With FloorISM, we are encouraging designers to begin from the ground up, to see flooring not as a finishing layer, but as the starting point of creative expression. As Sustainability Partner, our focus remains clear: responsible innovation must walk hand in hand with great design."

Greenlam Industries' continued presence at India Design reflects its larger vision of driving transformation within the built environment, where aesthetics, performance, and sustainability coexist seamlessly. By combining advanced manufacturing, certified environmental practices, and future-focused design thinking, the company aims to contribute meaningfully to India's evolving architectural landscape.